

October 26, 2014

"Gone With the Wind": The South in the American Imagination

Why is the American South different, and why does the rest of the country hold stereotypes about the region? Why and how does it remain a significant political factor?

By Professor David Goldfield

Acclaimed author and Robert Lee Bailey Professor of History, University of North Carolina, Charlotte; Academic Advisor to the U.S. State Department.

Wednesday, November 5th , 10:00-11:30
Meiser #1

Acknowledgement: This event is subsidized by the American Public Affairs Office!

Thank you to Ms. Risa Levy, for her help in organizing this event.